DETAILED ACTION

This is the first Office action on the merits of Application No. 10/616714 filed on July 10, 2003. Claims 1-18 are currently pending.

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of the species of Figure 3 in the reply filed on October 14, 2004 is acknowledged.

The examiner does not agree with the listing of claims which applicant believes are readable on the elected species. Specifically, claim 2 and each of claims 3 and 4 dependent therefrom require a "retaining element which cooperates with the housing to form an opening". In the elected embodiment of Figure 3 as described at paragraph [0031] of the specification "a retaining element is not used".

Claims 2-17 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on October 14, 2004.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

- (a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Art Unit: 3681

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Beneton et al. '118 which shows a friction clutch 103 including a housing 184, pressure plate 179, force exerting arrangement 188, actuator mechanism 185 and bearing 187. The clutch of Beneton et al. is a dual clutch including first and second clutch areas 171, 172 each having a pressure plate 179, 180 and force exerting arrangement 194, 188.

Claims 1 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) or (e) as being anticipated by Heiartz et al. '412 which shows a friction clutch 10 including a housing 28, pressure plate 34, force exerting arrangement 40, actuator mechanism 200 and bearing 230. The clutch of Heiartz et al. is a dual clutch including first and second clutch areas 202, 204 each having a pressure plate 34, 36 and force exerting arrangement 40, 60.

The Heiartz et al. reference applied has a common inventor with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Prior Art Citation

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The remainder of the prior art cited by applicant in the Information Disclosure Statement filed on December 18, 2003 has been considered. The examiner further cites Asada et al. '629 which shows a clutch with the bearing 24.
